AYER'S
Cathartic Pill
(SUGAR COATED)
ARE MADE
TO CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK.
Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

J C AYER Sir I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect, ED W PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.
DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D C, Feb. I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.
POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, Liv Co, MICH, Nov 16. DR AYER Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterward cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors bills and lost much time without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours which is actually good and honest will be prized here. GEO J GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.
From Rev J V Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston. DR AYER I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J V HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING Co, N Y, Oct 24. DEAR SIR I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood. JOHN G MEACHAM, M D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.
From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb 4. DR AYER Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.
From the Rev Dr Hawkes of the Methodist Epis. Church. PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA. HONORED SIR I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, La, 5 Dec. DR AYER I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout — a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which although a valuable remedy in skilful hands is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town and almost every hamlet of the American States its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

The Telegraph.

We have a short dispatch this morning containing later news than that brought by the Oregon There is a significant item in the report of the Democratic caucus at Washington, the resolution denouncing the proclamation of Mr Lincoln, as inexpedient, revolutionary' and unconstitutional, is probably the great plank in the Democratic platform for this year Much good may it do the Northern rebels who made it! Of course, they will think anything inexpedient, which hurts their Southern allies,—revolutionary, which disturbs their treasonable designs and unconstitutional, which increases and intensifies the power of the Government On the authority of Mr. Bassett, the faithful operator at Yreka, we are glad to be able to report that the telegraph will be completed to Jacksonville in a few days, and through to Salem by the middle or last of February Till then our readers will please to possess their souls in patience, though we confess that for ourselves, while editing a daily paper, we are quite impatient for some means of obtaining news oftener than once in ten days, as we now do by steamer

A False Union Party

The assertion that the Democratic party is the only true Union party—so often repeated by every Northern traitor—is an insult to the common sense of the community In fact, the record shows that its members and particularly its leaders have opposed the war for the Union, from first to last They, their orators and presses, have denounced the officers of the Government as tyrants, thieves and imbeciles, and with the utmost energy and too much success in some cases, have endeavored to destroy the confidence of the people in them They have discouraged enlistments, encouraged desertions, mourned over Union victories, boasted and triumphed at rebel successes, killed public officers in the discharge of their duties, incited disgraceful and bloody riots—in short they have exhausted their ingenuity and resources in devising means to palsy the power of the Government and to inaugurate a revolution in the North in favor of treason and the rebels If such infamous deeds prove their right to claim that the Democracy is on the side of the Union, then their party is the true Union party if not, they ought to hide their heads in shame and never talk of their love for a land which they have cursed and tried to offer up as a sacrifice to Treason and to Slavery.

FREE KENTUCKY —Govenor Bramlette's Message to the Kentucky Legislature was published on the 8th of December The Governor represents the financial condition of the State as satisfactory, and urges complete organization of the State militia, for home defense from guerrillas and robbers, and adds "It is a source of gratification that the patriotism of the people has met the efforts to place sufficient force in the field for defense, and that we are now more secure and better guarded than any time heretofore since the rebellion In a short time, under an arrangement made with the Secretary of War, the thorough organization of enrolled and volunteer militia for our defense will be complete, and security will again brighten the desolated homes of our border people" He pledges the entire service of the state to the defense of the Government Kentucky's position in reference to Federal relations is largely discussed, but no new position is taken It is conceded that negro slavery is not essential to the life of the State or nation, but that the Union is

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT —A recent dispatch stated that this "old salamander' had sailed to the South to take command of the Eastern Gulf Squadron This squadron blockades the harbors and inlets of Florida and guards the harbor of Mobile The chief rendezvous is Pensacola If an attack is to be made on Mobile this winter, it is gratifying to know that Farragut will have command of the fleet

EXTERMINATION —The Richmond Enquirer pays the following compliments to its old political associates, who have recently concluded that the only way to be successful politicians is to be in favor of the war The remarks are just, and show that the rebels very fairly estimate the sort of patriotism which has tried for two years to sacrifice the country, and now pretends to support its cause in the expectation that the new plan will be more popular and pay better than the treason which has hitherto guided them

Those of our Yankee brethren who are most friendly to us begin to perceive the sad necessity of destroying us Confederates to the last man. They regret it but it seems our obstinacy, our perverse resolution to keep out of the Union leaves them no alternative (though it will wring their heart) except to wipe us out from the face of the earth They are sorry but we will have it so Because the Union must be preserved —that is not only an axiom in politics, but is a law of nature and the ordinance of God What then can even the peacefullest of "Peace Democrats" do but cut at our throats! Gladly would they have taken us back to their bosoms they yearned over us as erring children—would have gathered us even as a hen gathereth her brood under her wings but we would not Such is now the position of some of those who were but lately "Peace Democrats" Others there are still, we understand, of the singular political sect who believe even to this day that we are not fighting for independence and eternal separation, but for a Democratic Administration in the next Yankee Presidential term As the New York News says, they have been keeping their finger on the Southern pulse all this while they know every beat of the Southern heart and they know that it pants only for—say Fernando Wood as President, with his crowd of Democratic instead of Republican officeholders and thieves When we talk of independence and separation they wink their eye, hint that this is very good sort of talk to be used against the Republicans approve even of our fighting a few battles and pouring out the richest blood that flows in Southern veins, in such a sacred cause—as the securing of the next four years plunder four years? eight, twelve or a hundred years—for Republicanism would then be crushed out, and Democrats would keep both hands in the public pocket secula seculorum These Peace Democrats feel that they and we understand one another Absolutely this last sort of Yankee is more offensive to us than the other sort they seem to us more intensely Yankee than the Abolitionists themselves Abolitionists and "War Democrats" would kill the body and plunder the goods but these creatures do worse—they insult us their very existence is an offense to us, and we shall be the better pleased the sooner they all merge into War Democrats and acknowledge the painful necessity of slaughtering us to the last man

RETURNING LOYALTY —The New York Tribune has an elaborate letter dated Vicksburg from a person who has been for three months on a tour through Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, has closely observed the condition of things, and claims to present a true, faithful and trustworthy account He observed among the people "a very general and growing discontent" The farmers of Mississippi are feeling the effects of the war, "and are very ready to yield to any proposition that might bring it to a close" This observer says

"In talking with many of the people about the prospects of peace it is easy to discover that they are all heart sick and tired of the rebellion, and would hail with joy the day that would announce the termination of the war Many are willing to acknowledge that the Confederacy is gone up and they want peace on any terms Those who have lost everything they possessed, many of whom were millionaires, are now ready to quit and willing to regard their losses and sacrifices as the misfortunes of war They will tell you that they have lost so and so much but 'let all that go and stop the war, and I am satisfied,' is the prevailing sentiment among the people Some few who are not well informed of the prospects of the Confederacy are still of the opinion that her independence is already achieved A few politicians are also busy among the people, telling them that the North is almost whipt, [illegible] out, that foreign recognition is a fact already fixed, and that a Confederate navy of twenty iron clads is coming from England to wipe out the Yankee fleet at Charleston open the ports, and establish a commerce between the Confederacy and foreign ports Among the more intelligent portion of the people there is but little respect paid to these designing politicians, and they keep silent and exercise their own judgment"

The following statement is made as to the Confederate officers —

"Among many of the most intelligent and responsible officers in the Confederate army there is a great despondency as to the final result They seem to feel the hopelessness of the cause, and express their fears though they are prompted by feelings of honorable consistency to stick to their posts as long as there is any hope left They are all tired out with the war, and cannot see that anything is to be gained by keeping it up against a power that is growing stronger every day Some are preparing themselves for the change when the Union shall be re-established, and others are making their calculations to remove to other lands"

FROM THE PEN OF A FEMININE REBEL —The New York World publishes the following, with an indorsement of the writer

The desolation of the Southern States beggars description Destitution and poverty have taken the place of opulence and prosperity Men that were worth hundreds of thousands are reduced to utter poverty As for the luxuries of life, formerly so abundant in the South, there are none Who were formerly the wealthiest have nothing to sustain life but what the country affords, and not enough of that for by impressment it is taken from them for the army Their garments, even their shoes, the families have to make themselves, they spin, weave and dye their cotton and homespun clothes rich and poor Tea, coffee and sugar are not to be had, milk and water are the only beverages, Indian corn is their principal food The families are broken up and ruined You seldom meet with a male inhabitant, and if you do he is either infirm or a cripple A large portion of the male population are killed in battle, many more crippled for lifetime many patriotic Union men died of a broken heart What remain are in the army or in the employment of the Government Nevertheless, press gangs cross the country in all directions in search of men for the army All ties of social life are completely dissolved No Courts of justice and equity are held—justice is meted out by the military Universities, colleges, and schools are all suspended The country in many places resembles a wilderness Wherever the armies march there everything is ruined—the crops destroyed fences burned trees cut down domestic animals killed, robbed, or taken for the army But whatever the Southern people may suffer, they bear it with heroism and resignation they have little hope of success There are very few if any, that prefer ignominy to death Under the impending Congressional and Presidential measures they deem it impossible to surrender at discretion, and are resolved to submit to utter destruction.

"A STREAK OF CHIVALRY "—One of the most inhuman acts that has been perpetrated since the war commenced was attempted to be carried out by the rebels on the night of the evacuation of Fort Wagner. According to the statement of a wounded man, discovered in the bomb proof, he had been in a dying condition four days The rebels refused to give him even a swallow of water to quench his thirst and told him when they left that he could not possibly live, and had better before dying do as much for his cause as lay in his power That he might benefit by this advice, they placed in his hand a string attached to the magazine with instructions to pull it when the fort was filled with Yankees and so send them all, himself included, into eternity But the wounded rebel, although most dead when our men entered the fort, had a faint hope that he might recover if properly attended, and gave that as a reason for not pulling the string He was taken to an ambulance and died while being conveyed to the hospital.

Letter from Auburn

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

AUBURN, January 2, 1864

January has come, and 1864 has made his opening bow and winter so far has dealt very lightly with us The weather to-day is almost melting, and the snow is quite soft Last season it was clear and quite cold all through November and December The present, or rather the past one, has been very different, and we have had no continued cold weather The most severe spell of all occurred the 1st part of October Since then the weather has been quite variable and the consequence is a general prevalence of colds and influenza So far as business is concerned the times are hard enough but the season of the holidays has been lively, abounding in parties, sleigh rides, etc

We have no excitements here no hurry of business, and not a single expectation of anything to "turn up" until next April at which time there will be almost a universal stampede for Owyhee Ask a merchant, a lawyer, a miner or a mechanic what he intends to do in the future, his answer is—Owyhee and the mania for "feet" has already carried off many old quartz prospectors The news from there, instead of "growing small by degrees and beautifully less," grows astonishingly more magnificent On the table before me there are specimens from different ledges there all of fabulous richness One piece of different colored chlorides of silver probably almost 50 per cent pure, with here and there a glimpse of gold through it Another, rich in sulphurets, out of which silver will ooze, with the aid of a little borax in a common forge Some pieces tried thus are actually covered with globules of silver, and the array of ledges is becoming long enough to predicate a thousand incorporations upon at the last dates fifty three ledges had been discovered there, varying in width from a few inches to several feet some of them not only being rich in silver, but being incredibly rich in gold Some of my specimens are fairly crusted with gold The Morning Star has been prospected at the discovery to the depth of seven feet, where it widens from eight inches to two feet, and turns out ore that averages great richness Another shaft half a mile off to the south, is down thirty feet, and yields ore, from which I have seen a heavy per centage of silver melted out in a forge The Seven Stars is a late discovery, of the same character of rock, or even richer than the Morning Star, and of greater width The Oro Fino was discovered among the first is a silver ledge, but shows a tempting display of gold, and its assays are very well up in the thousands The Calavaras, also a late discovery, is fairly crusted with gold a wider ledge than most of them, from which silver can be melted out, and plenty of gold clearly visable I give these merely as samples At least half of the ledges found prospect very well

South of there, 30 miles distant, wider ledges have been discovered, but the snow forbids attempts to prospect there until spring, and I am forced to believe that spring will open to the world a field of wealth equal to anything the present day affords, and other discoveries must be rich indeed to equal it

I acknowledge considerable personal interest in Owyhee, but the facts are open to examination The ore is for the world to test and try and I believe the future will tell a tale of these silver ledges that will rival the worn out yarns told about Ophir of old, or Potosi so the world may as well take a good ready, and make a rush for their hidden treasures

Idaho, let me tell you, is bound to figure heavily in the quartz market, and South Boise will show gold and silver ledges equal to almost anywhere else—save Owyhee Comstock, the great original, crazed creature, has hit upon a fortune in quartz there, and has an interest in a company whose ledge is very valuable, with float quartz lying around below it enough to keep a mill grinding and make a fortune before they need to touch the ledge Comstock's career is a succession of streaks of luck I consider him decidedly half crazed and infatuated with his own success A friend of mine told me seriously not long since that a certain lucky hombre in Owycee made it a principle never to prospect with any man unless he was a Dutchman, he believed in Dutch luck, but my friend continued drily, "For my part I'll never believe a man has struck anything rich unless he is a d—d fool"

The Dalles will be very apt to reap some benefit from Owyhee if their mountain road reaches it by as short a route as from the Umatilla landing

Something should be done to use up the Malheur Indians if possible in the spring, or the miners will suffer severely from their depredations There is no more important thing for the military to accomplish than the taming of these savages, and securing safety to miners and travelers, for the very region occupied by these Indians may turn out to be a wealthy portion of the State of Oregon

There will be a chance to make some money here the coming spring, though I fear few will remain here to realize it, but Auburn will find a reaction in its favor a few years hence

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF UNION LEAGUES —The Grand National Council of the Union Leagues of America, which began business yesterday, will probably continue in session four days The number of delegates is equal to the electoral vote of each State, and the District of Columbia, which has no electoral vote has had its nineteen delegates cut down to one Among the delegates are John H Rice of Maine, W E Chandler, of New Hampshire, General Butler, (not present) ex Governor Boutwell and Lieutenant Governor Trask of Massachusetts, Governor Miner and Augustus Brandagee, of Connecticut, B E Fenton, of New York Morton McMichael, of Philadelphia, Joseph Medill, S W Moulton and J Young Scammon, of Illinois, Z Chandler, of Michigan, J W Gurley, of Iowa, J B Smith and S D Hastings, of Wisconsin, J H Lane of Kansas and Governor John Evans of Colorado Their proceedings are secret for the present, but expected to inure to the great benefit of the League —Washington Correspondence, Dec 11th

INCIDENTS AT CHATTANOOGA —An extract of a private letter from an officer says a great many prisoners have been brought in. The charge of the army on Mission Ridge astonished Bragg Breckinridge's headquarters were on the ridge, in full view of our troops The lady who lives there told our troops the following 'Before you all came up here, I asked Gen Bragg "What are you going to do with me General?" He says to me "Lord! Madam! the Yankees will never dare to come up here" And, she added with a blubber, "it was not fifteen minutes till you were all around here!" A big lot of graybacks were brought in and halted right in front of where I stay I went to the door and heard the different squads hallooing for their regiment, "Where's the thirty fourth Alabama?" "Is the tenth Georgia here?" "Is there any South Carolina regiment in that crowd?" The last question was politely answered by a big grayback 'G—d d—n your South Carolina regiments, if it hadn't been for you we wouldn't be here'

WILLIAM L YANCEY —The New York Evening Post, in an article reviewing the life and reckless career of Yancey draws this picture of the unscrupulous rebel and gives the result of his labors in England in behalf of the Southern Confederacy

Shrewd untiring and utterly unscrupulous he compelled public opinion in his own State by putting down with an iron hand all opposition to the objects of the slavery [illegible] felt, all attempts were made to [illegible] It is a remarkable fact that in 1860 [illegible] time and conduct of Yancey and his [illegible] come in Alabama [illegible] J S Tharin formerly a law partner of Yancey attempted to establish a new paper the Non Slaveholder to defend the threatened interests of the non slaveholding whites against the slave planters But Mr Tharin was at once expelled from the State, and the opposition was crushed

At last in January 1861 he saw some part of the fruits of his long and bad labors A convention met at Montgomery without the vote of the people Mr Yancey reported to it an ordinance of secession and by his management [illegible] discussion and [illegible] petition were prevented and the act was carried through a House in which but few of the members were favorable to such an extreme measure

In February he was sent to Europe by the [illegible] spirit [illegible] here He found himself [illegible] there in London met were not yet persuaded that slavery was as he had declared [illegible] and that [illegible] the reopening of the African slave trade was not likely to be well [illegible] But Mr Yancey was equal to the occasion [illegible] himself out of the difficulty Mr Slidell recently tried the same expedient and with equal lack of success He found that Jefferson Davis had over [illegible] repudiation of State debts —but this only called out Mr Walker to prove that Davis did defend repudiation in Mississippi, and had offered to defend it even in another State

So with Mr Yancey charged with having urged the reopening of the African slave trade he first denied it then quibbled Thereupon his letters were printed, and he was held up to the contempt of the people of England as a vulgar [illegible] From that time he was no longer useful to his Confederates abroad and was recalled to Richmond where such are the morals of the cotton planters his mishap was not held to be disgraceful

This was the career of one of the foremost of the Southern leaders A convict murderer a convicted liar a bitter hater of freedom and of free government an unscrupulous revolutionist, he was a man of great power and influence in a country where freedom of discussion had ceased and where he could easily crush down an opponent by the cry doubt [illegible] Whoever in Alabama opposed Mr Yancey was an abolitionist and it had already taught his followers that abolitionists were without the pale of the law and must be hanged without judge or jury

LETTER OF REV DR ANDERSON TO HIS CLERICAL BRETHREN —The following letter was particularly addressed to the clergy of California, but its contents are of interest to everyone on this coast We ask its perusal

NASHVILLE TENN December 5 1863

To the Rev Messrs Thomas Starr King Buell Lacy Benton Hughes Cheney and my Other Brother Ministers of the Lord Jesus in California—MY DEAR BRETHREN I am here on my way to Chattanooga I already the hundreds of wounded from those glorious but bloody fields of Mission Ridge Lookout Mountain Chattanooga etc are meeting me Every railroad train brings its load of poor fellows who are suffering, under almost every form of wound and as at Gettysburg not a word of complaint is uttered I find it impossible to fathom the depths of the love of country which the sunken eye greets me with a smile and the feeble voice says to me 'It's all right, sir We cannot fight for the old flag and have it for [illegible] but it [illegible] and if we get well we will fight on till the rebellion is over'

I delayed here a day or two to learn from personal observation the state of the Sanitary provisions for these noble fellows Dr Read the efficient Superintendent of the U S Sanitary Commission at this post took me to the store house, a building 150 feet long and with the cellar three stories Two of the stories were well filled with the existing stores, the third was nearly exhausted Among the provisions for the wounded and sick, I noted blankets comforts, bed ticks pillow cases, shirts drawers dressing gowns, coats vests pants towels handkerchiefs socks, slippers mittens crutches bandages pads compresses, cans of fruit, fresh fruit butter eggs, apple butter pickles sour crout potatoes apples onions, chickens walking canes crutches etc etc In short a supply for every want of the wounded on the battle field and in the hospital

The present supply is good for a few days and other supplies are coming in but what are all these when distributed daily to thousands of men?

As at Gettysburg I have been melted to tears at seeing the anxious grateful look of the poor fellows when a mouthful of food or [illegible] was brought to their couch and my object in this short note is to let [illegible] hope and entreaty [illegible] the [illegible] to keep before the noble and generous people of California the pressing wants of this best of all agencies the U S Sanitary Commission From close personal observation I can assure you that what you place in the treasury of that Commission goes directly to the hearts of your brothers who have cheerfully, uncomplainingly shed their blood while battling for your liberties

You have already done great and manly things in this cause—how much you will never know until you learn it from the lips of our common Saviour when he greets you with the welcome Well done good and faithful servants But there is much more to be done—and just now the pressure upon the storehouses of the Commission is very heavy

You will not only excuse this note but I am sure will thank me for it I have addressed you by name because I know you personally and know that you are as deeply interested in this matter as I am What one man can do I am trying in my poor way to do, and I am sure you are doing the same

To morrow I go to Chattanooga—will visit the battle field and hospitals and will write you at length the result of my observations

As ever I remain yours for God and our Country

W C ANDERSON

SAD RESULTS OF TREASON —The Memphis Bulletin thus graphically sketches the condition of Tennessee

There is a portion of this State so devastated by the civil war as to be practically abandoned by the foot of man The men are slumbering at Shiloh, Corinth and Stone river the servants have gained their freedom, the women and children have fled to more remote and quiet places In falling in behind the retiring footsteps of humanity come the four footed beasts and creeping things The fox makes his burrow under the ruined dwellings where a happy people once dwelt The serpent crawls under the floor of the church and schoolhouse The squirrel chatters and builds his nest upon the lone tree in the old yard once noisy with the mirth of children The gum is rotting in the cool spring The partridge whistles from the ridge pole of the cabin The wild bee seeks a storehouse for his honey fearless of detection by the human eye All is returning to a state of nature What a monument of the ravages of war

THE POWER BEHIND THE THRONE —The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican says,

"The man who stands next to Mr Seward in influence with the President is Mr. Sumner, and on some points with which slavery is connected, Mr Sumner has the most influence On the question of the emancipation proclamation Mr Sumner stood first But in matters pertaining to our foreign policy Mr Seward is without a rival He decides all such matters as a king might do, and consults the President more as a courtesy than for anything else And it is well that it is so Mr Seward is an abler man than Mr Lincoln, if he is not so sincere"

Capt Poulain, of the French Engineers, in a recent treatise on the colony of Senegal, proposes as its soil and climate are favorable for the cultivation of cotton that "the fugitives and exiles from the Southern States being born in a warm climate and best able to bear that of Africa, should be invited to settle there and receive allotments of land to induce their emigration This looks very much as if some Frenchmen, if not the Emperor, believe the rebellion is nearly ended and that a good many rebels will have to seek some country where they can employ Africans in raising cotton

THE RECKONING WITH SOUTH CAROLINA —Carlyle somewhere speaks of Justice putting on her terrible garments—"her robes of hell fire." It is in just this aspect she is to-day approaching Charleston There is something fearfully imposing in the manner in which that dreadful sheet of flame steadily works its resistless way towards the devoted city Yet men rejoice and well they may Not for revenge Revenge is a passion fit for savages only But because there is a deep instinct in the human breast that finds pleasure in righteous retribution

MOTHERS WHO VALUE THE LIFE OF THEIR CHILDREN should always keep DOCTOR WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM on hand, which, if given every few minutes, in the first stages of this disease, will GIVE ALMOST IMMEDIATE RELIEF, and reduce the inflammation, and cause the child to throw off the mucus which causes suffocation
HOW MANY A MOTHER has waked up at MIDNIGHT AND FOUND HER CHILD BREATHING HARD AND AFFECTED WITH PECULIAR WHISTLING COUGH which would be relieved by the use of DR WM HALL'S BALSAM, and repay a thousand times the cost, by having it once in time of need, to give relief to the struggling child?

WE THINK THERE IS no Medicine so efficacious in removing humors from the blood as SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP It is recommended by Physicians in all parts of the country, for the cure of Scrofula, etc. Pimples or sores indicate that the system is out of order Unless something is done to cleanse the blood of these impurities, the result may be in a more serious disease, such as Scrofula, Syphilitic, etc Those who wish to find a most efficacious remedy, and yet have no confidence in Patent Medicines generally, will never regret a trial of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup

CITY COUNCIL met last evening Five members were present—Messrs Sutton, Austin, Hodge, Lucas and Zieber.

The rules were suspended and a resolution passed directing the clerk to place a certified copy of the delinquent assessment roll in the hands of the City Collector with a warrant attached thereto, directing him to collect in accordance with the law relating to the collection of delinquent taxes, as provided by City ordinance, and to make return to the Council by the 15th of March

The Council then adjourned

BROKE DOWN —As a wagon loaded with wood and drawn by two horses, was crossing the upper foot plank of Madison street along First, yesterday, the rod which holds the tongue in its place between the hounds gave way, and the load left for some time in such a position as made the passer-by take to the road So many accidents have happened at the same spot lately, that we hope some one will soon feel obliged to make the necessary repairs A few plank, or even cart loads of gravel would make the passage for wagons easier, without inconveniencing pedestrians.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT —The merchants and business men generally, on North Front street, have entered upon a plan whereby they can divide the time allotted to man between themselves and their customers, without any preference in trade. The arrangement in that part of the city hereafter, is to close their places of business at 7 o'clock P M There is a regular "system" of announcing the hour, and should any of our readers hear that horn "toot," at the Pacific Market, just think it is "shutting up" time with the clerks in that vicinity

SWEET CIDER isn't bad to take, especially when one has it generously brought to one's room, as the Printers in the News Room of the OREGONIAN can testify, since Mr Welch paid us that visit last evening. Mr. Welch manufactures the article on Front street, in this city, and will "warrant it to keep." We can recommend the cider—but as to the 'keeping' of it very long, we can't see it.

NO QUAKER ABOUT HIM.—A few evenings ago a gentlemanly individual undertook to sit at the supper table of one of our most popular hotels without removing his beaver. The waiter, considering it absence of mind, civilly apprized him of the fact which only caused the wearer to settle it in a more stylish position. This so irritated the proprietor that he instantaneously ejected him from the premises

PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTER.—A drunken fellow staggered along Front street last evening, in a defiant manner, evidently "spoiling for a muss" with some body. He at last "found his man," in the person of a well known produce dealer, before whose premises he conducted himself in such style as to eventually secure all he could desire, in his favorite way, he touched the mud lightly and in short order.

GOT HIS FOOT INTO IT.—A good natured farmer man came into our office a few evenings since in somewhat of a dilapidated condition, such as might be expected of one after he had made three attemps to save himself from sprawling in the mud and had slipped up as often in his calculations We think he has sufficiently recovered from the effect of it, to enjoy as hearty a laugh over it now as we did at the time.

TUGGING.—Sailing vessels visiting our port have to depend upon the river steamers to supply the place of tugs Notwithstanding this, however, there is considerable "tugging" done in seasons when the river is high, as can be seen by the efforts of our small crafts in the struggle against the current.

IN MARCHING ORDER — The Washington Guards, Capt. Mills, were out drilling on Front street last evening, and attracted much attention and approbation, from a large crowd of observers

THE ARMATIA, Capt. Richardson, was towed down to Oak Point yesterday, by the steamer Cowlitz She will load lumber for San Francisco

RICHMOND MARKETING.—A returned Federal officer, desiring to express the infinite scarcity of provisions and the value of Confederate currency in Richmond, said that when a lady went to market in that city, she took her cash in a basket and brought home the articles she had purchased in her porte monnaie

LEATHER BONNETS —A Philadelphia paper says We have been shown ladies' bonnets made of leather What is more, they are very pretty. We also examined very pretty artificial flowers, the foliage of which was of the same material The colors are almost the natural hue of the material—russet—in different shades The price is about the same as for flowers with foliage of muslin or velvet

OF INTEREST TO LADIES —Every one regards the Sewing Machine as a blessing to women It has been the saving of much toil, misery, and probably of life itself The "Song of the Shirt" is now obsolete, the more enlivening ballad, "The Song of the Sewing Machine, has taken its place We had heard, through our lady friends of machines that would stitch sew, hem and of one that could make a perfect button hole in a garment We had supposed that perfection had almost been reached knowing that these instruments performed all the necessities in sewing But it seems they still had the "accomplishments" to learn We are led to make these remarks, having recently seen some ladies' cloaks elaborately embroidered with this Sewing Machine The work seemed to excel anything executed by hand labor Beside being more rapidly and cheaply executed, the work has a more regular and consequently a much more beautiful appearance. What is most remark

Labor with what zeal we will,
Something still remains undone,
Something uncompleted still
Waits the rising of the sun.

By the bedside, on the stair,
At the threshold, near the gates,
With its menace or its prayer,
Like a mendicant it waits;

Waits, and will not go away;
Waits, and will not be gainsaid;
By the cares of yesterday
Each to-day is heavier made;

Till at length the burden seems
Greater than our strength can bear,
Heavy as the weight of dreams,
Pressing on us everywhere.

And we stand from day to day,
Like the dwarfs of times gone by,
Who, as Northern legends say,
On their shoulders held the sky.

Miss Todd, M D

OR, A DISEASE OF THE HEART

From the Portfolio of a Young Lawyer

The days of my clerkship were ended, my examination was over, I was admitted, wrote myself "Nehemiah Hobbs, Attorney," put up my little bright sign, and in my native village began my professional career. No I did not either, I am mistaken, I intended to pursue the honorable practice of the noble profession to which I had dedicated my talents and learning in the place of my birth, but never was truer word penned than the time honored proverb "A prophet has no honor in his own country" I believe if I had remained in the village of Green Briar till my head was white, they would have thought of me as nothing but a boy, and would have feared to trust me. Even after my sign was up nobody called me Mr Hobbs, I was still "Ne" with old and young and "Ne" I would have been to this day, had I remained in Green Briar.

Only one case claimed my attention during the three months of my patient continuance of Green Briar, after being admitted to the bar, and that was the case of an unjustly impounded pig "feloniously abstracted, your honor, from the small, but secure spot which my client had trustingly disposed him in, and maliciously driven to the public enclosure called a pound, for the vile purpose doubtless, of compelling my client, in his poverty and destitution, to pay the enormous fee which has been demanded of him, in order to extricate the animal from his unpleasant position and restore him to the bosom of his family."

By this I meant the client's family, the pig having none of his own. It was a figure of speech undoubtedly, the family not inhabiting an Irish cabin, but still it rounded off the period, and sounded well to me, as I rehearsed over and again my maiden speech, pacing up and down the floor of my little office. In this my first case, I was successful so far as to rescue the impounded animal and save my client from the payment of an unjust demand, but it brought no silver to my pockets, neither, to my surprise did it seem to bring honor to my name. The eloquence of my speech did not form the theme as I fondly hoped it would, of paragraphs in the village papers, or of discussion at the corners of the streets, neither did it bring to my office the rush of clients, for which each day I vainly made ready. It was plain that I should never [illegible] settle in some great city where nobody knew or had ever heard of me, where, above all, there is not a soul to call me "Ne."

There I was more successful, and soon had the opportunity of forming a very advantageous partnership, business increased, money began to come in, slow at first, but after a time more plentifully, and all things seemed prosperous in my outward circumstances. But alas! as we are so often told poetically, there is no sweet without its bitter, no rose without its thorn, and trouble came to me in the shape of diseases, insidious and slow in its approaches at first, long feared and suspected, but at length betraying itself so plainly that I could not blind myself any longer to the truth.

Yes! I was without doubt a victim of disease of the heart, not metaphorically, dear reader, for never had that organ beat with a quicker pulsation at the approach of mortal woman, so far as the gentler sex was concerned, I was a perfect stoic, but that there was an organic disease about my heart, I could not doubt, and if ever the symptoms disclosed themselves unmistakeably, they did so in my case. There was fluttering, palpitation, irregular action, and at length pain, I could not work, life had lost its zest, the fear of sudden death was ever with me, I could enjoy nothing. If I had had anything to leave it to, I would have made my will for I was quite sure now that I should either drop some day lifeless in the street, or that the morning would some come, when the power to rise from my bed would have left me.

I remained at my boarding house, and found no comfort in anything but my cigar, and my dread disease grow worse and worse. As yet I had consulted no physician, partly, I think, from the apprehension of having my fears confirmed, but as I sat by my window one day, smoking as vigorously as ever, gazing abstractedly across the street, my attention was arrested by a modest little sign upon an opposite blind—"C L Todd, M D" While thinking whether or not it would be best to make trial of a physician's skill, a sudden twinge and flutter decided me, yes I would send for Dr. Todd, and know the worst at once!

Summoning the only male servant belonging to the establishment, I told him to step over and ask Dr Todd to come and see me as soon as possible.

The boy grinned.

"What are you laughing at?" I asked, "is not Dr Todd a good physician?"

"O, yes, sir," he answered, "I believe she is a very good physician, but she hant never tended nobody here."

"She!" says I to myself "the boy surely has Welch blood in his veins, they always she everything."

The boy soon returned, saying, "The Doctor wasn't at home, sir but I left your name on the slate."

In the course of the afternoon, as I lay up on the sofa, with my hand pressed upon my heart, to still its irregular pulsations there was a soft tap at my door. "Come in" I called out, and to my surprise in came the neatest, brightest and most cheerful looking little woman it had ever been my lot to meet.

"You sent for me I believe sir?" she said, in a quick brisk pleasant way.

"I? No, madam you are laboring under a mistake."

"Ah! I beg pardon," said the little woman "I found on my slate the name of Mr Hubbs, number fourteen, Mrs Gray's boarding house with a request that I would call and see him."

"Your slate madam?" I exclaimed my astonishment increasing every moment, "you surely are not a ———"

"Physician! yes sir" she interrupted quickly "I am a physician Dr Todd."

"Extraordinary!" was all I could say, for though I had heard at a distance the existence of such beings this was the first introduction to a female practitioner of the Esculapian art. It was rather awkward but since she had come, I determined to make the best of it, and acquaint the lady doctor with my case.

She felt my pulse, and asked numerous questions as to my symptoms and then in her quick, bright way exclaimed—

"Nervous! nervous! that's all depend upon it! Excuse me, sir but by the air of your room I presume you are much given to smoking?"

I plead guilty.

"And how many cigars do you usually smoke a day?"

"I could not tell. I never counted, as soon as I threw one away I took another usually."

"Humph! cigars in your mouth pretty much all the time eh! Chew too?"

Again a reluctant confession was wrung from me.

"I presume you sit up late, smoking all the time?"

"Yes ma'am, smoking and reading."

"That's it! No disease of the heart at all nothing but tobacco, depend upon it nothing but tobacco, it'll make you fancy anything, it'll drive you crazy if you don't take care. Now will you promise to follow my advice closely or not? If not, I will take my leave immediately."

I promised submissive as a lamb.

"In the first place then throw away all your cigars and tobacco, and promise to buy no more."

With a sigh given to my sole consolations, I said I would do as she directed.

Many more directions she gave as to diet exercise early hours &c. Perhaps she saw, too that cheerful companionship was one thing I needed, and so she remained a while talking with great glee and spirit about matters and things in general, and promising to call and see me the next morning, she left.

I had not felt so well in a great while, indeed I had not given my heart a thought since the little woman entered the room.

The next morning I found myself watching impatiently for the arrival of my little doctor. She came bright and cheerful as the day before. What a perfect little sunbeam she was! I could not help growing better under her care, and the influence of her cheering presence, and yet I managed to contrive some ache or pain every day, as an excuse for the continuance of her visits.

At length I found that my heart which had long been quiet and apparently free from disease began to flutter and palpitate again, but I observed it was only when I heard the little woman's tap at my door, or felt her soft fingers on my wrist. In short as she had driven the disease out of my heart, that little woman herself had walked into it. I could no longer blind myself to the fact, and when she one day told me that I was now off the sick list and out of her hands, I determined that she should not so easily get out of mine.

So I told her that as she had given ease to my heart in one respect, she must not leave till she had done so in another or I should be worse off than I was before. The little woman looked perplexed.

Then I stated my case and explained my symptoms a second time showing her the distressed state of my heart and that she alone could cure it. The former disease she had removed by one remedy but the latter could only be cured by her promising to come and take up her abode with me as Resident Physician. She understood me now and by the [illegible] her hand on heny think it was. So now [illegible] determined to cure each other and next we are both to apply to a clergyman who is to form between us a life partnership as lawyer and physician.

But one thing troubles me, of which I had not thought till now, that it is necessary to have our cards engraved. Married people are usually "Mr and Mrs so and so" or "Mr such an one and lady," but will any one please to be so kind as to tell me how I and my little wife are to be designated. Will it be "Mr and Dr Hubbs," "Mr and Mrs Hubbs, M D," or as the ladies are going ahead so fast in these days of Woman's Rights, will I sink into lesser insignificance and shall we be Dr Todd and gentleman, or must I drop the name of Hubbs altogether, and become a Todd, too! Somebody please to tell me how to have those cards engraved!

Somewhere about the year 1780 so runs the tale, a traveling millwright in those days the king of mechanics—foot sore, and with the broadest northern Doric accent, stopped at Soho, a locality once indicative of field sports, and then the engine factory of Boulton & Watt, and asked for work. His aspect was a little better than that one of "beggary and poor looks," and Mr Boulton had bidden his God speed to some other work shop when, as he was turning sorrowfully away, Mr Boulton suddenly called him back.

"What kind of a hat have you on your head, my man?"

"It's just timmer sir."

"Timber, my man? Let's look at it, where did you get it?"

"I just made it, sir, my ainsel."

"But how did you make it?"

"I just turned it in the lathe."

"But it is oval, man, and a lathe turns things round!"

"Aweel! I just gaur'd the lathe gang anither gait to please me. I'd a long journey afore me, and I thocht I'd have a hat to keep out the water and I had na muckle siller to spare and I just made ane."

By his inborn mechanism, the man had invented the oval lathe and made his hat and his hat made his fortune. He became a distinguished machinist.

Honorable Conditions.—Many years ago in what is now a flourishing city in this State, lived a stalwart blacksmith fond of his pipe and his joke. He was also fond of a blooming daughter, whose many graces and charms had ensnared the affections of a susceptible young printer. The couple, after a season of billing and cooing "engaged" themselves and nothing but the consent of the young lady's "parent" prevented their union. To obtain this, an interview was arranged and the typo prepared a little speech to astonish and convince the old gentleman who sat enjoying his favorite pipe in perfect content. Typo dilated upon the fact of their long friendship their mutual attachment their hopes for the future and like topics, and taking the daughter by the hand said:

"I now sir, ask your permission to transplant this lovely flower from its parent bed—" But his "feelinks" overcame him he forgot the remainder of his rhetorical flourish, blushed stammered and finally wound up with—"from its parent bed into my un—"

The father keenly relished the discomfiture of the suitor and after removing his pipe and blowing a cloud replied:

"Well young man, I don't know as I've any objection provided you will marry the girl first."

AYER'S
Cathartic Pills

(SUGAR COATED)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK.

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians and Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG PA, May 1, 18[illegible]

DR J C AYER. Sir I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect,

ED W PREBLE Clerk of Steamer [illegible]

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR WASHINGTON, D C, Feb[illegible]

Sir I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

ALONZO BALL, M D Physician of the Marine Hospital

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE HARTLAND, LIV CO, MICH, Nov 15, 18[illegible]

DR AYER Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills which soon cured her by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills and lost much time without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours which is actually good and honest will be prized here. GEO J GRIFFIN, Postmaster

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev J V Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston

DR AYER I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J V HIMES

WARSAW, WYOMING Co, N Y, Oct 24, 18[illegible]

DEAR SIR I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St Louis, Feb 4, 18[illegible]

DR AYER Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev Dr Hawkes of the Methodist Epis Church

PULASKI HOUSE SAVANNAH, GA, Jan 6, 18[illegible]

HONORED SIR I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians the disease grew worse and worse until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore Dr Mackenzie I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA, 5 Dec, 18[illegible]

DR AYER I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain mercury which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands is dangerous in a public pill from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. In every town and almost every hamlet of the American States its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy we need not do more than assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
